OFF ON ITS TRIP TO BOSTON.

THE FORTY-SEVENTH REGIMENT LEAVES FOR THE CITY OF CULTURE.

Heartly Cheered by the Crowds on the March to the Ferry-Over 400 Members of the Command Will Enjoy the Visit-To Be Received by the Governor of husetts on Boston Common.

The Forty-seventh Regiment, commanded by Col. Edward F. Gaylor, left Brooklyn yesterday afternoon on a trip to Boston, to be absent until Saturday morning. The storm, which on Tuesday night threstened to mar the pleasure of the trip, and for a few hours made the "boys" teel somewhat downhearted, happily subsided yesterday, and the regiment went off in splendid order, everybody feeling in high spirits and bent on astonishing the natives of the "Hub." The regiment was never in better shape than it is to-day. The Fortyseventh stands among the Al regiments of this State, and is therefore a representative organization. The regiment went in the State service uniform "pure and simple," so that the Mussa-chusetts militia and the people of Boston can judge exactly what a National Guard organigation from this State is like when in the dress provided by the State. Some regiments have elected to wear what is called a distinctive uniform, but the Forty-seventh is content with the State dress only. Instead, however, of carrying their overcoats yesterday, every man had his red blanket rolled on the top of his knapsack. This seemed to brighten up the whole unitorm, which is somewhat sombre. Another thing, the members wore their white leggings, which are not only useful as saving the bottoms of the trousers in dirty weather, but they look well on the march.

With the exception of a single day's trip to Waverly, N. J., five or six years ago, the Forty-seventh has not been away from the city "on its own hook" since it went to Poughkeepsie many years ago, during the time that Col. David E. Austen commanded the regiment. That trip was a memorable one, as it was on that occasion that Gen. Grant reviewed the command.

The Forty-seventh left its armory on Marcy avenue at 4.30 o'clock, and marched by way of Bedford avenue to the foot of South Ninth street. Crowds lined the "treets and cheered as the regiment went by. Of the regiment proper there were about four hundred, and there were some thirty members of the Veteran Association in their new uniforms. As the regiment is without a band of its own just now, it engaged Conterno's for the trip. This and a drum and fife corps numbered over sixty pieces. Drum-Major Brinsley wielded the baton gracefully, as usual. A ferry-boat was ed at the disposal of the regiment by the Brooklyn and New York Ferry Company. On this he Forty-seventh embarked and were taken to the toot of Murray street, North River, and transferred to the steamer Old Colony of the Fail River Line. The regiment secured the exclusive use of the boat for the trip. At Fall River the regiment will disembark and then take the cars

The event of the trip will be a review by the Governor of Massachusetts on Boston Common this afternoon. It is probable that a collistion will be provided for the rank and file after the review, and that the officers of the regiment, the veterans and sheats of the command will be tendered a banquet at one of the leading notels.

Sergt. Dolan Wine the Marksman's Badge by a Perfect Score-Other Scores. Tue third day's meeting of the National Rife Aseciation yesterday was remarkable for the magpificent and hitherto-unequalled score made in the Markeman's Badge match by Ordnance Sergt. Taomas J. Dolan, of the Twelfth Regiment, N. G. S. N. Y., who made ten consecutive bull's-eyes at Taomas J. Dolan, of the Twelfth Regiment, N. G. S. N. Y., who made ten consecutive buil's-eyes at the two distances—200 and 500 yards. When it was announced Dolan was the recipient of hearty congratulations on all sides. In 1883 John K. Green, of the Seventh Regiment, made the same 50 out of a possible 50, but it was in two days shooting. Never before was it done on the same day with no chance to wait for a better light.

The President's match aroused the greatest interest, and was finally won by George Doyle, with a score of 109 out of a poss bie 120. Leas year the prize was captured by Sergt. T. J. Dolan, who made 115 points.

The executive officer yesterday was Gen. Charles F. Robbins, to whom, with his assistant and statistician, Capt. G. Henry Witthaus, a great deal of the success heretofore attending the meeting is due. Major Frank Jones, Rieventh Regiment, Capt. J. C. Jones, Seventh Regiment, and List. S. W. Merritt, also of the Seventh Regiment, N. G. S. N. Y., were the range officers. Assistant Surg. C. L. Lindley, of the Twelfth Regiment, acted as range surgeon.

The day opened with a slight breeze from the northwest, which afterwards ranged around to dead south and theo switched back to the westward, where it held with int few variations. What there was of it was steady and not fifd, and consequently baffine, as on the day before.

Thesday afternoon saw the conclusion of the two days' shooting for the Jund prize established by the Board of Directors of the N. R. A., in commonoration of the said rendered by David W. Judd in securing the passage of the law which made the establishment of the Creedmoor range possible. Owing to the mistake made by Messrs. Merritt, Hussey and Edes in shooting on a American Siandard instead of a Creedmoor target, and the consequent pecesity of computing by a different soale the relative values of the rashota, the result could not be announced until yesterday morning. The four highest scores made in the two days were:

T. J. Austin. 65 W. H. Hussey. 65 There were no entries for the Interstate Long Range match, and so it was declared off.

For the President's Match there were twenty-eight entries. There were two stages, with twenty-two prizes in the first. The prize winners were eligible to enter the second stage, and the winner in this carried off the title of champlon and $25. The distance in this stage was 600 yards, with ten shots. The following are the scores made:

All these prize winners entered the sebond stage at 600 yards, which, with the match, was won by Sergt, George Doyle, of the United States Engineer Sergt, George Doyle, of the United States Engineer Corps, with 109.

The Short Hange Team Match was begun yesterday, and will be concluded this afternoon. It is open to any regularly organized rife cluv or military organization. These are the three best scores made yesterday; Zettler kine Club, of New York, 292; team from Second Regiment, Massachusetts National Guarda, 297, and Nyack Rife Club, of Nyack, 248.

Yesterday, as usual, the continuous matches went on. The highest scores made are heregiven:

QUEENS COUNTY CANDIDATES NAMED. Quite a Lively Time at the Jamaica Republican Convention.

The Queens County Republican Convention assembled at the Town-Hall, Jamaica, yesterday evening at 11 o'clock. Henry W. Baldwin read he call for the convention, after which James Breath, of Flushing, was chosen temporary Chairman and S. S. Aymar, of Jamaica, and James Smith, of Finshing, were chosen Secretaries. Two delegations presented themselves from Long Island City. Henry Burden headed one and L. L. Maniey the other. George L. Wallace, Lucian N. Knupp, Isaac H. Cocks and others discussed the test course to be pursued in regard to the claims of each. Mr. Cocks did not believe in allowing the contesting uelegations to appear on the floor and argue their cases as time was precious, and besides it was hardly the thing for them to air their grievances in public and thus give me impression that there were disagnessed in the party. George Wallace wanted to give each side ten minutes on the floor. He said be wanted the warring Republicans to go bome from this convention determined to live in peace in future.

Mr. Wallace's suggestion was noted upon, and the discussion began by Mr. Maniey being a Republican. Mr. Manley denied the charge in vigorous fashion.

Wulliam Williams, of the Bursen delegation, seman and S. S. Aymar, of Jamaica, and James by one of the other side with not being a Republican. Mr. Manley denied the charge in vigorous fashion.

William Williams, of the Bursen delegation, secured the floor, and while arguing the claims of himself and colleagues to seats, was interrupted by Mr. Bamber, of the Manley delegation, who called him a liar. Mr. Williams advanced in the direction of Mr. Bamber and an uproor ensued, but the Chair, with several members, separated the two men and quiet was restored, Mr. Williams, who is a brother of Inspector Williams, of New York, declaring that he would attent to Mr. Bamber later on. Mr. Williams was next accused of being one of Mayor Gleason's Police Commussioners, and he denied the imputation, saying that he had been relieved of the office. Henry W. Baldwin, Chairman of the County Central Committee was called upon to give an opinion, and said the matter lay only with the Convention. After further discussion, the Manley delegation was admitted by a vote of 38 to 30; four delegates not voiting.

further discussion, the Manley delegation was admitted by a vote of 38 to 30; four delegates not voting.

The temporary officers were made permanent. Nominations for county officers being is order, George Wallace named George W. Smith, of Hempstead, as a candidate for Sheriff; L. N. Manley named Armstead C. Henry, of Long Island City. Mr. Smith received 62 votes, Mr. Heary 19 votes and Chris Anderson 1 vote. On motion of Isaae H. Cocks, John H. Sutphin, of Jamaica, was nominated by acclamation for County Clerk. Isaae H. Cocks, John H. Sutphin, of Jamaica, was nominated by acclamation for the office of County Superintendent of the Poor. H. Valentine Clowes, of Hempstead; Joseph H. Huntling, of North Hempstead; Joseph H. Huntling, of North Hempstead; and Isaac M. Kellogg, of Jamaica, were named as candidates for Justice of the Sessions. The balloting resulted as follows: Clowes, 34; Huntling, 10; Kellogg, 24. As Bettner received a majority of the votes cast, another builot was taken, and Joseph R. Huntling's name was withdrawn, the second ballot resultings as follows; Clowes, 39; Kellogg, 41. The following were nominated as candidates for the following were chosen as the delegates to the Congressional Convention; North Hempstead, John A. Ring, George W. E-siman; Jamaega, Col. W. S. Arson in Long Island City.

An attempt was made to burn the two-story double frame house of Assessor James Davreu, in Long Island City, early yesterday morning. Willam Donovan succeeded in extinguishing the iam Donovan succeeded in extinguishing the fiames before they gained much headway. The floor was found to be sprinkled with kerosene oil and burned matches were found behind the bar. A five-gallon oil can with very little oil in it was found in the rear room, behind a lounge, where the fire burned at the same sime the fames raged behind the bar. Sergt. Darey, who made an investigation of the premises, found the floor aprinkled with oil and the place showed every indication of an attempt having been made to destroy it by fire. The police are making an investigation and to-day it is probable hat arrests will be made.

GORHAMS DEFEAT THE ATHLETES,

in Interesting Game of Ball at the Club Grounds.

Yesterday's game being the last of a series of three between the Brooklyn Athletic Club and the Gorhams, every one looked for a good game, as each club had one game to its credit. The 500 people who were present were not disappointed.

The Brooklyn Athletic Association turned out strong, hoping to see their club win the old game, several of the gentlemen bringing their lady friends with them as mascots, but they were disappointed. prointed.

O'Connell, for the Athletic, drove a beautiful two-base hit over Collins's head and scored on Fricken's sacrifice.

Neither nine scored in the second inning. Jackson got his base on a safe hit to short and scored on A. Jackson's three-base hit to center. H. Jackson took first on a chance hit to right field, sending his namesake across the plate and scoring on a safe hit from Bell, who was caught stealing third. Neither nine scored in the fourth. In the fifth, A. Jackson, after having two strikes called on him, knocked the bail to centre-field fence for a home run. Evers made a beautiful stop of Bell's hot grounder, retiring the side.

Farley got first on five isalis and scored on A. Jackson's error. In the seventh O'Connell got first on a base bit, stealing second and third, and scoring on Helzer's sacrifice.

In the seventh for the Gorhams Evans broke his bat, but Fricke put him out at first. O. Jackson got his base on balls, went to third on a passed ball, and scored on A. Jackson's scorifice to second. In the ninth Collins got his base on balls and scored on a base on the string the side, the amateurs not scoring in their half of the hith. The score is as follows:
